State Fire Mobilization Ends for Elk Heights Fire

CAMP MURRAY - Mobilization of state fire assistance ended at 7:30 p.m. on August 3, 2004, for the Elk Heights Fire west of Ellensburg in Kittitas County. The fire, which has burned 358 acres and destroyed two residences and one outbuilding, received authorization for State Fire Services Mobilization Plan support on Friday, July 30, 2004.

Under the state fire assistance, the Washington State Patrol's (WSP) Fire Protection Bureau had coordinated the dispatch of firefighters and equipment from Yakima, Grant, Benton, Snohomish, and Thurston counties as well as College Place, Ephrata, Mount Vernon, and Hanford, fire departments to support firefighters from Kittitas County fire districts.

The Emergency Operations Center at Camp Murray remains at Phase II for the Mill Canyon Fire.
